

When I asked Larry about the Marines, he sits up straight in his chair and with a gleam in his eye. He has much dignity associated with the Marine Corp. Larry was enlisted for 7 years and served in Okinawa for approximately a year of that time, he was very proud to have supported the Marines there. He also spent time in Guam and the Philippines.

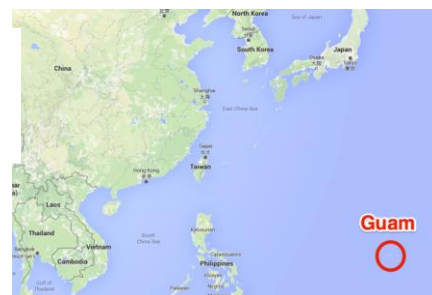

I asked him what he loved about being in the Marine Corp.

His response took no hesitation...“The other Marines”

The bond he had with his fellow brothers is apparent; Larry wanted me to understand how Marines always stand up for one another.

Although he was an only child, he found a family of brotherhood

Larry now enjoys working on the computer and learning new things. He currently is trying to learn Spanish and Japanese. His favorite food is chicken, enjoys many kinds of music and says he is adaptable to the changes in his life.

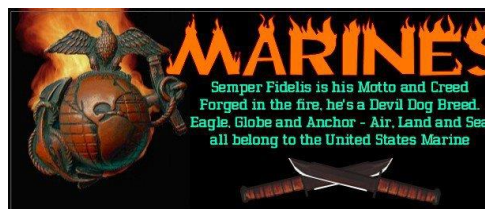

An inquiry to Larry about what he is most proud of he had 3 things: His twin daughters (who were not ornery), 2 grandchildren (a boy and a girl) and the Marine Corp.

Just to show you his orneriness, I asked what advice he would give me...Don't get married. What makes him happy...Women? He laughed at that one.

When asked what he likes about his “Angel” he replied, because she is always there for me.

Twins

Two little blessings sent from above
